

Health Care Litigation

Oppenheimer’s health care litigation team—which includes 3 former government health care litigators—represents payors, third-party administrators, providers, and pharmaceutical and medical device manufacturers in court cases and arbitrations for numerous types of health care litigation matters, including:

- » Payor and Third-Party Administrator disputes with providers and subscribers
- » False Claims Act/Medicaid/Medicare fraud investigations/litigation
- » Medicare Part D compliance litigation
- » Insurance/reinsurance coverage matters
- » Antitrust/unfair competition litigation

Recent Experience

- » Represented health care payors in numerous provider and subscriber disputes in court and arbitration proceedings across the country
- » Handled insurance and reinsurance coverage disputes in which we obtained substantial coverage recoveries in favor of our payor clients
- » Handled cases and governmental investigations involving allegations of health care fraud, including alleged False Claims Act violations (Medicare and Medicaid fraud)
- » Defended a health care payor against claims for alleged violations of the Medicare Part D prescription benefit program
- » Represented hospitals and physicians in provider licensing, credentialing and disciplinary disputes
- » Defended a large pharmaceutical company in antitrust litigation relating to the importation of prescription drugs from Canada
